

You are a nurse caring for wounded soldiers in the first few days of the Battle of the Somme. Can you imagine what your work would have been like, and describe your feelings and experiences to loved ones at home by sending short, tweet style messages?

